

This pond will provide additional flood protection for neighboring communities by adding storage to the system.

This marsh will naturally filter water and trap sediments.

These cypress trees will provide water quality enhancement by slowing the flow of water and allowing plants to receive vital nutrients. These native trees will help restore natural habitats.

Project Improvements

	berm		marsh
	cypress		water

